

Posting New Poems

To post any changes you've made to the website, open Github Desktop. This program synchronizes your local files to the site.

Github has an irritating number of checks and balances to prevent synchronization problems, but the steps are simple:

1. Hit "Fetch Origin" (see Figure 1). If changes have been made to the site (by me, for example), the same button will change from "Fetch" to "Pull." If this happens, hit "Pull" also.
2. Summarize your changes (e.g., "Issue #1"). Optionally, write a lengthier description of any changes.
3. "Commit to main."
4. Hit "Push Origin" to finalize your changes (see Figure 2).
5. Allow time for Jekyll to build the site before confirming that results are as desired (~4-5min). Check `trilobite.bond` to confirm everything is as it should be.

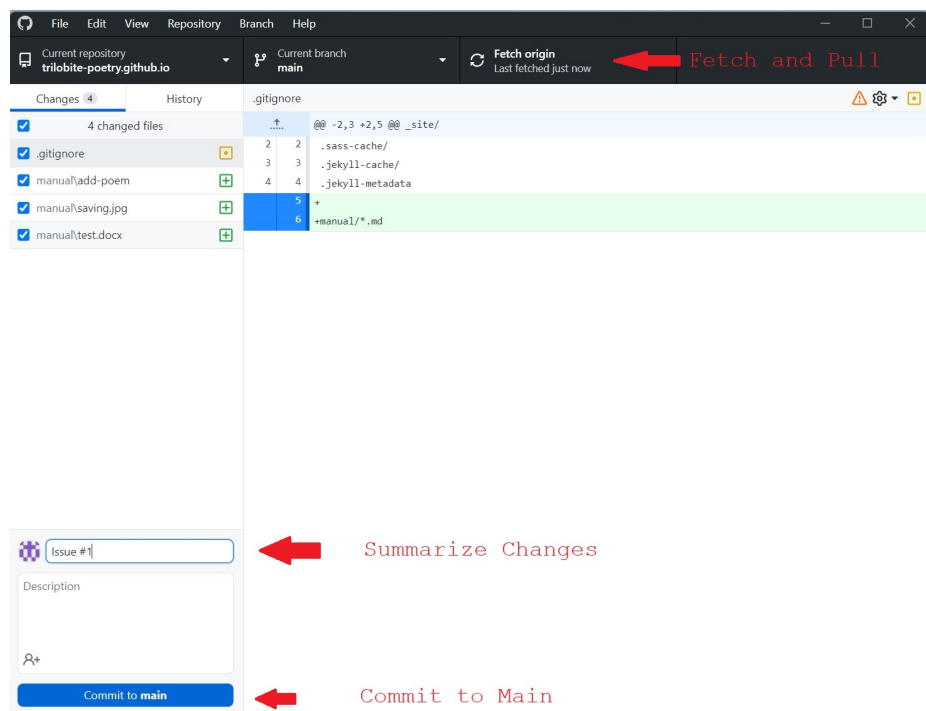

Figure 1: Github Desktop

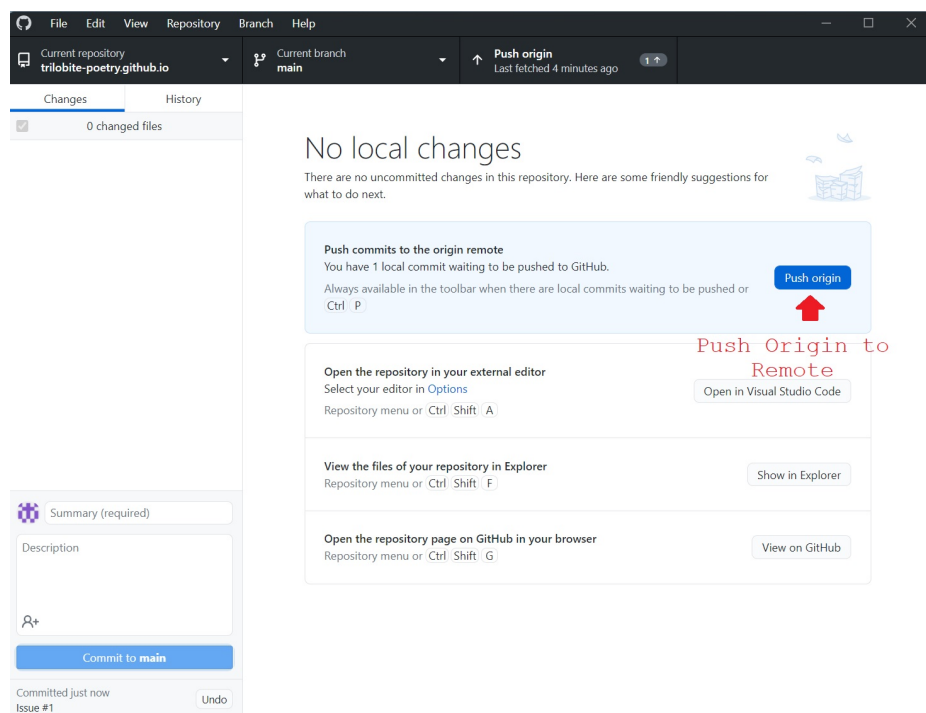

Figure 2: Github Desktop